President Hoover Can Only
Present Entire Matter
To U. S. Congress

By GEORGE R. HOLMES

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Confidence that the principal European debtors will make their December payments to the U. S. Treasury was maintained in high government quarters here today.

"They will pay grudgingly perhaps, but they will pay," said one official. "As for the future—well, the future will determine."

The expectation is general that the British payment of $95,000,000, and perhaps the French payment of $19,000,000, will be accompanied by notes of vigorous protest and warning of "dire economic consequences" if the whole debt situation is not reviewed and the amounts due scaled downward.

President Handicapped
If and when received, President Hoover will reply that he is laying the matter before congress. Under the circumstances, there is little else he can do. Congress has the determining voice, and there now exists in congress no sentiment whatever for further cancellation, save possibly in the case of Great Britain.

PA NEW OBSERVES

It was brought to mind today that the Christmas holiday is close at hand when Pa New saw some of the markets of the city.

If you think Santa Claus doesn't have his toy shops you're mistaken—he's even opened his New Castle branch already. And like a lot of others, Pa New never knew much about the city's mission, a hobby of volunteer men from the Veterans of Foreign Wars, until yesterday. But he does now—and many a kid, you can be sure, will have toys to play with this Christmas just because of the V. F. W. work. The mission occupies a room in the Lusk building, East Washington street.

On next Sunday evening, in an appropriate way, the Elks of New Castle will pay tribute to the brothers who have passed beyond during the past year. The memorial affair is to be held in the lodge room.

All highways out of here led to the hunting camps in the mountain districts toward the north-east and there were New Castle cars scattered between here and those districts bearing hunters galore who expect to hibernate for a few days in the woods.

Hunters! Let Pa New know of your deer hunting successes. And may your bucks be many and big ones.

One more day and then we will be living in the eventful month of December. Young Pa New was reminded yesterday of the 25th day of December when he saw a load of Christmas trees pass through the city.

Formal inquiry into the death of Peter Gibb, Pulaski township farm youth, which was held before Coroner Orville Potter in the office of Justice of the Peace C. L. Zedaker at New Bedford last evening, failed to develop any new clues into the slaying of the youth.

Gibb was shot on the night of November 22, as he pursued an automobile near his home.

His assailants were occupants of a machine which had been parked near his home when he returned from a boxing match at Hubbard. Gibb, believing they might be members of a gang which had been robbing farmers of the district of chicken and other farm stock, was pursuing the car in an attempt to secure its license number when shot.

Urges Hunt Continue.
The coroner's jury, after hearing the testimony offered by the various witnesses, brought in a verdict that the youth had met his death at the hands of persons unknown, and recommended that the county officials continue their efforts to apprehend his slayers.

Dr. Paul Wilson of New Castle was the first witness summoned by Coroner Potter.

He stated that he had conducted an autopsy which revealed that Gibb had been struck almost squarely between and a little above the eyes by a steel jacketed bullet of large calibre, which went clear through the brain and struck against the back of the skull, the bullet being found on the floor of the skull. It would have caused instant death, he stated.

Nicholas Gibb, father of the slain youth, who resides on the State Line road, north of New Bedford, related the events which immediately preceded the youth's death.

Father Tells Story.

Peter Gibb, his son, was 21 years of age, the father stated. On the night of the slaying he had attended a boxing show in Hubbard, returning home at 10:30 o'clock. When he came into the house he stated that a car was parked along the road near the house and he wanted a pencil and paper to write down the number of the machine.

The car was parked near their barn, about 250 feet away from the house, the father said, and when his son went out and got his motorcycle and started after the machine it began to move away. The son followed at a distance of approximately 200 feet. He watched the two machines go down the road toward the New Bedford road, about a mile away, until it was lost to view by a patch of woods.

The son had been taking numbers of the various machines parked near the home for some time, because there had been a great amount of stealing from the farmers in the district.

The youth had a police whistle, the father said, which he used to stop people if they tried to get away before he could get their numbers.

Had No Arguments.
The son had never had any argument with anyone.

If the interest in organized motordom in New Castle could be quoted barometrically the quotation for today insofar as the New Castle Motor club is concerned would be "Warmer with Increasing Temperature". One hundred members of the club met Tuesday night in The Castleton and laid plans for an increased membership in the local club.

No more enthusiastic meeting of the motor club has been held in years than that of Tuesday night. Perhaps part of the enthusiasm was engendered by Russell E. Singer, national secretary of the American Automobile association. Other parts no doubt were engendered by talks by Fred L. Rentz, Howard B. Richards, President Ralph Bolsinger and others, but whatever the cause the fact is that the enthusiasm was present and should result in a larger membership.

Officials

(International News Service)
ROSSBURN, Man., Nov. 30.—A stable fire, a quarrel, an anonymous letter all emerged today as elements in the strange mystery surrounding the grisly discovery of the bodies of five murdered babies, buried in apple boxes.

Provincial authorities of this remote village of the Canadian North worked diligently to piece together the chain of events which led to the exhumation of the tiny bodies and the arrest of Mrs. Peter Yachup and Fred Stowsky on murder charges.

Probe Many Angles

Still, many a link in the episodic chain was missing.

Who were these babies that were strangled to death before their lives were many days old?

Why should Stowsky, a widower, and Mrs. Yachup, who came to his farm daily ostensibly to cook his meals, be involved in this gruesome mystery?

Whose plan was it to strangle the infants and bury them near the farm shack of Mrs. Yachup and what motivated the cruel deeds?

These were but some of the questions to which the police sought answers. None of these would have

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Nov. 30.—Major Lynn G. Adams, head of the Pennsylvania state police, today characterized as "bunk" reports that he had ordered his troopers to halt "hunger marchers" from the west at the Pennsylvania-Ohio border.

"We're not helping them or hindering them, and as long as they behave themselves they'll be treated like any other citizens," he asserted. Major Adams said he anticipated no trouble from the "marchers" enroute to Washington to demand aid from congress. He said he was contemplating no more than the usual precautionary measures.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 30.—Did you read about the woman up in the northwest that swallowed a turkey bone four days after Thanksgiving, then got in an airplane, got sick, and got rid of the bone?

Well, I was going to write a joke about it, showing how many days it took to reach the old bone of the gobbler, when, lo and behold, our own cook came dragging in turkey hash. We won't reach the bones till about Thursday.

If I run for something that would be my platform—"Boys, no part of any turkey served later than Sunday night after Thanksgiving."

State Police Detail Will Be Returned

Capt. J. Oftedahl Of State
Police In Conference
Here On Tues-

Unless some unforeseen eventuality prevents it, there will be a detail of State Policemen stationed in New Castle sometime between December 15 and 20. This promise was made to a group of officials and business men who gathered in the office of Mayor Charles E. Mayne Tuesday afternoon to confer with Captain J. Oftedahl, commander of Troop D of Butler.

Captain Oftedahl came to New Castle at the behest of Major Lynn G. Adams, superintendent of the State Police, in Harrisburg. The governor had been asked by Bart Richards for a conference in Harrisburg between New Castle men and himself in an effort to combat the crime wave now existing here. Governor Pinchot suggested that if it would save any time and money he would have Major Adams arrange for a conference here and this conference was held Tuesday afternoon at city hall.

OFFICERS RETURN ABOUT DECEMBER 15

Sub-Station Here Will Be

Local Move

So-called "hunger marchers" who are moving towards Washington, were reported as leaving Cleveland, O., this morning for Akron and heading towards Pittsburgh. It is probable that this group will go thru New Castle enroute.

The marchers, who are travelling in autos and trucks, expected to be in Pittsburgh tonight.

At Youngstown Tonight

AKRON, O., Nov. 30.—The northern caravan of "hunger marchers," several hundred strong, passed through this city today enroute to Washington where they will demand unemployment relief from congress. Because the trip from Cleveland took more time than was expected, plans were revised and it was said that the next overnight stop would be at Youngstown and then marchers pushing on to New Castle, Pa., and Pittsburgh tomorrow.

Will Not Be Allowed To Stop
YOUNGSTOWN, O., Nov. 30.—The trouble loomed in the patch of the "hunger marchers" reported enroute here this afternoon on their way to Washington.

Mayor Mark Moore, attending the state relief conference in Columbus, wired acting Mayor U. S. Kessler that the hunger "army" would not be allowed to stop in this city overnight.

"Hustle them right through the city," were Moore's orders.

Meanwhile, acting Mayor Kessler had made arrangements to feed the marchers in a soup kitchen in an abandoned church.

"I think Mayor Moore's orders are ill-advised," commented Kessler. "I fear the police department here is not strong enough to handle the situation in event of trouble."

He ordered 170 patrolmen held in reserve here to await the arrival of the "army."

Mayor Moore, in his telegram, asserted "the city is trying to help its own poor and has no money to aid any Communist movement."

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Nov. 30.—Canada Adams, 35, an undertaker, was shot to death early today apparently when he answered a call at the rear door of his establishment.

A single bullet pierced his heart. The assailant escaped after dropping his gun almost at the feet of his victim.

Mrs. Marie Adams, wife of the undertaker, found the body when she investigated to learn why he had not returned home. She said he had informed her early in the evening he would have to work late.

Adams had a 38-caliber pistol in his pocket. It had not been discharged.

Deer Hunters Gathering In Huge Numbers

Expect 50,000 To Be In
Woods Of State Tomorrow As Season
Opens

ONLY BUCKS CAN BE SHOT THIS YEAR

Elk, Clearfield, McKean,
Cameron County District
Is Chief Center

(International News Service)

RIDGWAY, Pa., Nov. 30.—With the opening of the season only a few hours away, 50,000 red-coated nimrods, packing a brilliant array of firearms and ammunition, already today were gathered at Pennsylvania's most beautiful game mecca—Elk, Clearfield, McKean, Cameron counties—for the fifteen-day annual deer hunt. The season opens tomorrow.

More brightly-clad hunters arrived during the day at the various camps throughout the district, maintaining a virtual stream of humanity from east, west, north and south.

Several states and practically every section of the Keystone commonwealth were represented.

Plenty Of Deer
Adding zest to the eager anticipation of the impatient hunters was the announcement—perhaps a prediction—from veteran hunters that there are more deer this year than last year and enough for all.

But it'll be harder to bag a deer this year than it was last season. There is no open season on does or young. Legitimate prey has been narrowed to only buck deer with two-point antlers.

Game warden returning from the hunting grounds today said the deer were tame and could be approached easily. This probably will change after the fleet-footed animals learn that red-coated hunters don't mean any good—for them.

Close Vote For
Garner Beer Bill
Being Predicted

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—The Garner resolution submitting repeal of the eighteenth amendment to the states will be reported out of the house judiciary committee on a close vote, a poll by International News Service indicated today.

The committee will meet Friday on the call of Rep. Summers (R) of Texas, chairman, to consider a recommendation for passage of the re-submission resolution in the house on Monday.

The poll showed the 22 members of the committee divided at present as follows: for repeal, 11; against, 7; for qualified repeal, one; doubtful or unaccounted for, three.

Democratic leaders expect two of the three whose views could not be obtained to support the repeal resolution.

Mrs. Clay Aubel of Adams street, who has been quite sick, is reported to be improving.

Many Persons Are Now Paying Taxes

Louis McClung, city treasurer stated today that there has been a rush during the past three days by persons to pay city and school taxes which are delinquent for 1932.

By paying the delinquent taxes today they will escape a delinquent penalty on both city and school taxes.

The penalty becomes effective again Thursday, December 1, the treasurer announced.

STAR REMOVING;
RELOCATING CURB

Approximately 50 men of the mayor's committee on relief employees brigade commenced removing and relocating the curb on the south side of East Washington street between County Line and Ray streets.

It is anticipated that by the time the curb is all removed and relocated the Victor Olsen Contracting company will be ready to lay the concrete base on the south side of the widened portion.

HOOVER AIDES PROBING NEW "NEWS LEAKS"

Seek Source Of Apparent "Leak" In White House

Report White House Secrets Are Given To News-papemen

SECRETARIES HOT ON TRAIL

By GEORGE E. BURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—A new "White House leak investigation" is in progress. At least two of President Hoover's triumvirate of secretaries were engaged today in attempting to run down the source of a seemingly routine story about executive office affairs.

The green carpets were being worn threadbare as employee after employee was called to task in an effort to ascertain what each might know about this new "loophole" in the closely meshed screen the Hoover aides have woven about their "Chief."

Richie In Charge
Lawrence Richie, principal secretary to the president, and reputedly "closest man in the world" to Mr. Hoover was leading the determined last-minute inquiry into loyalty.

Theodore G. Joslin, secretaries in charge of press relations, was aiding in the highly quiet investigation. The offending story—carried into virtually every newspaper in the United States—had to do merely with the fact that all employees on the executive office payroll must suffer a three-and-a-half-day furlough each month for the remainder of the fiscal year, in addition to their 8.3 per cent pay cut, because congress had lopped some $6,000 or more from the budget of the White House appropriation bill.

Extra Furlough
Publication yesterday that an extra furlough had been ordered at the White House created a furore underneath the usual serenity that envelopes the upper end of Pennsylvania avenue. Richie and Joslin renewed previous orders that "all publicity" should emanate from Joslin's office, and Richie is inquiring into the source of what newspaper reporters accepted as a run-of-mine story.

INTREPID POLISH FLYER TELLS OF ATLANTIC HOP

Lifted out of the water and brought back to America, to home, to friends and to comfort.

Good Will Trip
"The main reason for the flight was sentiment," said Mr. Hausner. "Between America and Poland there has always been a bond of understanding. Both nations suffered that they might enjoy liberty, both were under the tyrannical hand of the oppressor, and both have fought through the black night of oppression to come out into the sunshine of liberty."

"I wanted to be the first to link my adopted home with my native home by air, to help to weld even closer the strong links of friendship that bind the two nations. It was not the whim of one unprepared to know the hazards connected with. For many years I had been flying, part of that time as an aerial lieutenant of the New York police force. The more I studied the plan of flying from New York to Warsaw, the more I felt it could be done and I made my preparations carefully."

No Storms Booked
"The experts told me there were no storms over the Atlantic on June 3, 1931, but I was to learn the experts were wrong. There should be a law against experts. I took off from New York and made Harbor Grace without difficulty and there they reported me to London as being on the way."

"Out over the broad Atlantic I went, and sometime during the night a terrific storm broke. I tried to rise above it but could not, and had to take a chance of plunging head down into it. Finally, the next morning I got above it and the sun came out. I was then half way on my trip, there was daylight, things seemed to be OK and I began planning my landing in Warsaw. Then something began to happen."

"It wasn't my engine for it was working beautifully, but some of the accessories began cracking up. Gradually it got worse and then suddenly my plane started for the water. With a crack it hit the waves and thought for a time that it was the end. Somehow I got out of the cabin and crawled up on top of the wings. I had no food, no drinking water, nothing but the clothes I was dressed in. Days passed, eight of them."

"When I crashed, I estimated that I was only about 100 miles off the coast of Ireland. The drift was to the south and on the eighth day when I was picked up by a passing steamer I was about 800 kilometers off the coast of Portugal."

Couldn't Save Plane
"When I was picked up I asked the captain of the vessel if he would pick my plane up also, but he said that the sea was running too high for him to endanger the lives of any men. We left it drifting in the ocean, but seven weeks later it was picked out of the sea by an Italian vessel off the coast of Africa and it is now being prepared for shipment to me."

"Next spring I expect to try it again and I am sure I will succeed this time. I want to be the first to span the distance between New York and Warsaw by air and I feel that I will."

The Falcon hall was filled to overflowing for Hausner's address and many were unable to get inside. Opening the meeting Ben Budzowski, chairman of the Falcons spoke briefly and introduced the chairman of the evening, Stanley Augustyn. Prior to the introduction of Mr. Hausner, M. Galizewski, chairman of the Fourth District of the Falcon organization spoke for a short time. Under the direction of Joseph R. Noga, the Falcon choir sang a number of selections in the Polish tongue.

It was an unusual meeting with an unusual story told in a simple way by an unpretentious young man who had braved death that he might fulfill a sentimental ideal.

arisen to baffle the officials and shock the countryside, had it not been for an anonymous letter, it was revealed. It was this letter—written by Mrs. Yachup, according to police—that led directly to the finding of the infant corpses.

Angry in tone, the letter was received some days ago by Justice of the Peace C. H. Staples at Angusville, 14 miles west of here, the only village in the immediate vicinity of the Stowisky and Yachup farms.

The letter described the spot where the interred bodies of the five babies could be found and linked Stowisky with the disposal of the infants' remains.

Two Are Arrested
Justice Staples turned the letter over to the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, who went to the stipulated locality and, after digging, unearthed four of the bodies, containing the remains of the five babies. In one of the crude coffins were found the bodies of two infants.

The "Mounties" arrested Mrs. Yachup and Stowisky, grilled them and entered a charge of murder. Mrs. Yachup wrote the anonymous letter, police claim, because of a fire which destroyed a stable on Stowisky's farm. Stowisky accused her of having set fire to the stable. There was a quarrel and Mrs. Yachup went home, embittered against her farm neighbor, and wrote the letter, according to authorities.

ments with people about stopping their cars, as far as he knew, the father stated.

Edward Taylor, who lives at the corner of the West Middlesex-New Bedford road, near the scene of where the youth was slain, was the next witness.

He stated that he had gone to bed about 9:30 and had been in bed but a short time when he heard the dogs of a neighbor barking and he arose and looked out the window for about an hour.

Approximately an hour later, he stated that he saw a machine coming along the road at a fast rate of speed. There was a motorcycle pursuing it, which he presumed was Gibb's as he knew that he had been patrolling the roads recently. The two cars were approximately 200 feet apart. The automobile, as near as he could make out in the darkness, was a five-passenger sedan. He could just see the outline of the machine as it sped by. Then he heard eight or nine shots fired in rapid succession.

Car Lights Out.
The occupants of the machine had evidently turned out the lights of their car after the shooting as he could see for a quarter of a mile up the road beyond where the shooting took place and could detect no lights from the automobile.

He aroused his brother Clyde and the two dressed and went to the scene. They found blood spots along the road for a distance of about 200 feet before they found Gibb's body beneath the motorcycle. There were marks along the road where the footgear of the motorcycle had evidently scraped. Gibb was partly beneath the machine, still astride the frame.

They then came on into New Bedford and notified Coroner Potter and police authorities.

He had been out with Gibb, assisting in taking numbers of machines, about a week before, Taylor stated, the purpose of which was to have the latest numbers of machines which had been in that vicinity in case new depredations would be committed by the robbers. They would drive up behind the cars close enough to get the number and leave them go, Taylor said. He never knew of him having any trouble with occupants of any of the machines.

Clyde Taylor, brother of the preceding witness, told practically the same story. He fixed the time of the occurrence as around 10:45.

Heard Shots Fired.
Mrs. William Helmsberger, who resides on the New Bedford-Sharon road, within a few hundred yards of where the actual shooting took place, told of hearing the shots fired.

She and her daughters had returned home from a meeting at 10:05, she said, and retired shortly afterwards. Her attention was first attracted by the sound of several machines coming up the road, and one of her daughters remarked that the one sounded like a motorcycle.

When the cars had reached a point in the road almost in front of their house, eight shots rang out in rapid succession. She said there appeared to be five shots then a slight pause and three more.

The machines were traveling at an excessive rate of speed at the time, she stated.

After the shots were fired, she heard a sound as of a machine skidding. They looked out and could see the glow of the tail light from Gibb's motorcycle as it lay in the road.

The road has a slight grade in it, and then there is a dip. It was in the dip of the road where the motorcycle had come to a stop.

Mrs. Helmsberger said she did not hear a whistle blown before the shooting, nor had the Taylor brothers. Gibb's whistle, covered with blood, had been found in the road a short distance away from where the body was found by Coroner Potter the night of the shooting.

The jury which heard the evidence in the case was composed of C. A. Moorhouse, W. D. Cooper, Charles E. Allen, Hugh E. Gilkeson, O. H. Rogers and D. L. Zimmerman.

Young, one of scores who joined the nimrods' pilgrimage from here, will sleep outside wrapped only in the sleeping sack that he'll take with him. He'll also cook outside. And Young will tell you he intends to bag a deer.

EVENING DINNER FOR NEW MEMBERS

Eight new members and a number of guests were royally welcomed into the Baldwin Bible class of the Highland U. P. church Monday evening, with a tureen dinner at 6:30 as the opening activity. Places were arranged for 70.

Mrs. Thomas Lindsey, teacher of the class, gave the invocation, after which the committee, Mrs. E. C. Meyers, Mrs. C. J. Streib, Mrs. Irvine Ralph, Mrs. Howard Evans and Mrs. J. T. McFate, served the delicious viands which had been brought in the tureens of the members.

During the serving of the menu pep songs livened things up, with Mrs. Adarene Harris as the leader and Mrs. Jay L. Reed at the piano.

A long table at one end of the dining room held the gifts brought by the members for one of the church mission schools in the south and besides this a sand table was arranged to represent the group of buildings at the mission at Frenchburg, Ky., and Mrs. D. L. Ferguson gave an interesting talk on the school and her visit there.

The remaining evening hours were spent by the teams in their contest of games, which will determine who will serve a dinner and entertainment in the spring. The even side, under the captainship of Mrs. Josephine Kison, led by a small margin the odd side, captained by Mrs. Harry Miles.

December 20 will mark the date of the next class meeting, at which time a play will be presented for the entertainment of the class.

Bronchial Troubles Need Creomulsion

Bronchial troubles may lead to something serious. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth. Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cougher cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (Adv.)

BALLOT REFORM IN PENNSYLVANIA

STATE SENATOR MANSFIELD of Allegheny county is preparing a bill for the new Legislature which would repeal the present method of voting a split ticket. Formerly a cross in the square after the party name excluded the right to place another cross after the names of any candidates. But in 1919 the General Assembly revoked this prohibition, and one may now split his ticket by employing additional marks, despite the fact that he has used the party square. The practice has led to considerable confusion and doubtless is often incorrectly tabulated.

Before going back to the original plan the Senator would do well to review the complaints which caused the change from the early custom. In ballot law interpretation the "intent of the voter" must be duly recognized. Too many persons were unwittingly disfranchised under the previous system. Therefore, any reform must take these circumstances into account.

While no ballot is fool-proof, the Pennsylvania form is open to most serious criticism. It is too clumsy. It needs shortening. It could dispense with the first column of party names and present a lay-out like the Delaware ballot suggests the Philadelphia Inquirer. In Delaware the candidates of the same party appear in single column and the party columns are parallel. To vote a straight ticket one merely runs down the column of his party and places his cross against each name in the list. To split a ticket he places a cross opposite the name of the candidate in the rival party opposite the name of the candidate in the rival party for whom he wishes to vote, leaving the opponent's square blank. The arrangement is simple and satisfactory.

With the use of voting machines on the increase, the necessity for reducing the size of the ballot is growing in importance.

THE TEACHER'S TAG

The presidency of Harvard University is one of the most important educational posts in the world, and it has been occupied successively by two salient personalities. Charles W. Eliot was fairly bursting with pedagogical ideas, some of them good ones. A Lawrence Lowell, who resigned after twenty-three years' service, has been scarcely less prolific, and it is possible that his proportion of good ideas was even higher than Eliot's.

And yet, such is the irony of fate, it is probable that Lowell's memory, like that of Eliot, will survive in the minds of the masses of his countrymen by reason of an act that had no bearing on his career as an educator. Eliot is remembered, not as a great school teacher, but as the man who invented the Five-Foot Shelf, which millions have accepted as the long-sought royal road to learning. It is highly probable that Lowell will be remembered, not as Eliot's rival but as a school teacher, but as the man who condemned Sacco and Vanzetti.

Eliot certainly did not regard the selection of the Five-Foot Shelf as the crowning act of his career. Lowell certainly did not expect his fame to hang on his decision in the Sacco-Vanzetti case. And yet, perhaps, these are rather more than less fortunate than some of their colleagues. Apparently the public simply cannot remember an educator without a tag whereby to identify him says the Baltimore Evening Sun. Eliot's and Lowell's are at least authentic tags. Eliot did choose the books. Lowell did render the decision. If their fate seems hard, consider that of Osler, remembered as the man who advocated chloroforming men at 40—something which he never advocated and never dreamed of advocating.

TEN CENTS ON THE DOLLAR IS NO SETTLEMENT

The allied nations won the war on American money. After peace was made, England, France and Japan divided among themselves parts of Asia and Africa, and France and England also gained political control over some territories in central Europe. The United States, true to the high purpose with which she entered the war, asked for nothing in the way of spoils or reparations—and got nothing.

All this nation has ever asked is for the repayment of the money loaned to Europe, and that on whatever basis is convenient to Europe. And all the schemes and plots and maneuvers which rich Europe—300,000,000 people live and work and produce there—may devise in an attempt to fool the United States into believing that it is unable to pay cannot convince the informed American that such is the case.

The only possible circumstances in which the United States could consent honorably to a compromise on debt payments would be in return for promises from Europe that she would rid herself of her great disarmament burden, that she would make some tangible effort toward reviving international trade * * * and that she would bend her energies sincerely toward the job of restoring peace and prosperity. But even if this were done there would be no obligation on the part of the United States to give away what rightfully belongs to its people.

Europe never would have made as much headway in its plans as it has had it not been for the aid given it in this country by a few Eastern internationalists whose own private money is tied up with the public debt settlement, and who, therefore, have urged the allied nations to press their case while at the same time they have through their agencies of propaganda tried to spread the idea that somehow magnanimity on the part of the United States in this matter will speed up the return of prosperity.—Columbus, Ohio, Dispatch.

CHRISTMAS BARGAINS

There is not likely to be the usual riot of spending for Christmas this year. Yet there may be a bigger turn-over of holiday goods than either merchants or customers expect. Incomes are smaller, but thrift funds seem to be about as large as ever. Estimates represent the total for the country as around half a billion dollars. Not all of this money, or half of it, will be spent directly for Christmas gifts. But it will be nearly all put into circulation this month, providing stimulation for general business and helping merchants particularly.

The small incomes have shrunk savings, too, will go farther than the same amount of money has gone for nearly 20 years. Some of the bargains available at the stores would have been incredible two years ago or even one year ago. Articles of all kinds have been deflated. Many find goods, both domestic and imported, can be bought today at less than they cost the merchants.

Thus the Christmas buyer will find many bargains that he may not find again. With no excuse for extravagance, there is much reason for liberal buying, especially of goods serving a useful purpose.

The turn-over value isn't much if there is a ditch there.

TOO MUCH FOOTBALL?

A lady who is usually right said to me during the football season: "When are you going to give up football? When are you going to grow up? All this season you've been going to those football games—and what have you gotten out of them? You're all excited about them in the morning. You're all depressed after the game."

"You come home tired and when I ask you how the game was, you say it was rotten! Your team lost, or it won, looking bad. It fumbled. It didn't use the right plays. It had the ball on the two-yard line with four downs to make a touchdown in—and couldn't put it over. They looked slow and they couldn't block and they couldn't tackle and you don't think you'll go to any more football games this year. That's how you are every Saturday night."

"But you read what all the sports writers have to say about the game. And you talk about the game to your friends who went to it. And about the middle of the week I notice that you're wavering again. You start talking the next Saturday game and I know you intend to go. You can't keep away from it. You're sheepish about it, but only a death in the family would prevent it."

"You'll go and you'll be disappointed and you'll tell me again that you don't think you're going to any more football games. . . . Not this season, anyway. . . . Isn't that right?"

Yes, that's right. . . . That's what I did all season long, alternating high hopes and deep despair. Excited at 6 o'clock, depressed at 5. And I'll be doing it next season and the season after that and the season after that, too. And I hope I'll never get too old or too tired to be that way about football—or motion pictures—or plays—or books—or people—or any other activity that's part of life. I'm not looking for football, exactly, I'm looking for life. I'm looking for the perfect player, the perfect play, the perfect game.

I know, on Saturday afternoon, that I may be doomed to disappointment, but we must take the bitter with the sweet and some day, any day, I may be sitting there in the stands and see the most amazing display of skill, boldness, brains and courage that ever happened on any football field, anywhere. And I want to be there when it does happen.

You understand, don't you? You know you do. You're like that. You know you are. Nearly everyone I know is like that. And football, for me, is just an exciting reflection of all life. I wouldn't have it any different. I wouldn't have life any different, either. If I can't play that particular sport, I want to be right there at the kickoff and not miss a single play all the long afternoon until the sun goes down.

Isn't that right? You know it is!

GOOD RESOLUTIONS

If you have ever had a serious illness you can remember your convalescent days as times when you made resolutions as to your future conduct.

First of all you'd live a better life, everything considered.

You'd be more generous, more lenient, more forgiving of others' frailties and more liberal in your efforts for those who couldn't care for or defend themselves.

In fact there would be some pretty important changes in your life with those around you in actions, words and general conduct.

But as strength returns what do you do?

Complain about the food offered—the way it is cooked and served.

When there is a little noise—a slight disturbance in the house—you call it a "racket" that would raise the dead.

Conspicuous resolutions are forgotten and you revert to your fault-finding attitude not only with members of your family but friends who drop in.

If you'd carry out some of the good thoughts you planned for action when you were ill, you'd be happier yourself and your family might get more pleasure out of living.

Remember what you said you would do if you recovered from that last illness?

Not always life is gentle; wind and rain.

And the gray fog and the cold white snow.

Unemployment Insurance Debated As State Project

Offered By Labor Leaders And Compared With Plans In Wisconsin, While Report Made In Ohio Receives National Attention

Action in favor of unemployment insurance by the Executive Council of the American Federation of Labor is sympathetically received in comments throughout the country. State systems would be created, with funds established through contributions representing a small percentage of payrolls. It is held that the subject is likely to become a matter of considerable public debate, especially as Wisconsin has such legislation and a favorable report has been made in Ohio. Chief objection to the Federation plan is that the employer has no obligation to contribute to the fund, and that the burden falls upon industry.

"All the possible disputants," according to the NEWARK EVENING NEWS, "agree on one proposition—some provision has to be made for the willing worker who is unemployed through no fault of his own." That paper finds "it is generally agreed that there is no better time than the present to bring the problem to the attention of the lawmakers, as the commission of Governor White of Ohio impressively showed, in its estimate of what could have been done if such a plan were made effective 10 years ago."

THE INDIANAPOLIS NEWS points out that the Ohio commission's view is that such insurance is desirable, "but that it should be provided entirely by the employers and the wage earners," and that paper voices the opinion that the plan "avoids the most objectionable features of such plans in requiring no contribution of tax money, and has some merit as indicating a feeling that some form of compulsory wage saving may be benefited by the social structure."

Organized labor's proposal, as viewed by the OMAHA WORLD-HERALD, upholds the view that "the worker has an equity" in employment, and the Omaha paper believes that it "helps clear the air, gives a basis for discussion, and may point the way toward united action against the miseries of unemployment and the loss of capital."

It concludes: "In one essential respect the statement falls short. It does not define labor's duties with respect to the new program." THE BALTIMORE EVENING SUN observes "a very decided shift in the traditional policy of the Labor Federation, recognizing that, under the leadership of Samuel Gompers, the Federation 'emphasized its non-political character and stood out strongly for collective bargaining between employer and the employed.'"

The Evening Sun observes that in the present utterance the Federation leaders favor a plan which "is not a dolt in the style of the European doles, for though regulated by government, its funds would be supplied entirely by industry."

"The interdependence of labor and industry," in the judgment of the PHILADELPHIA EVENING BULLETIN, "is a compelling reason why they should be able to get together on a just and workable plan of discharging society's obligation to those who, able, willing and competent to work, are denied opportunity because of the maladjustments of the machine age and the instability of production." That paper makes the comment on the Federation proposal: "Unemployment insurance as proposed differs from the Wisconsin law and the measure proposed for Ohio by a committee of inquiry. In Wisconsin the building up of unemployment insurance reserves and distribution under prescribed conditions are compulsory only if industries fall by a certain date to institute approved plans of corresponding scope under their own control. The labor councillors want

THE WASHINGTON EVENING STAR also advises that such insurance "presents itself as the policy to be inaugurated in good times rather than bad. Its advantages," continues that paper, "lie in prevention

WOMAN SHOOT

MOUNTAIN LYNX

LARAMIE, Wyo.—A lynx, one of the largest seen in this vicinity for some time, recently was shot by Mrs. Harry E. Maddock, wife of a Little Laramie rancher.

The animal, evidently driven out of the mountains by hunters banded out of a haystack as Mrs. Maddock was riding along a herd of cattle.

She returned to the ranch house, obtained a rifle and pursued the lynx for three hours before shooting it.

Court Actions Cripple Probe

Six Temporary Injunctions
May Halt Work Of Senate
Utility CommitteeS. RAY SHELBY
FIGHTING HARD

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Nov. 30.—Six temporary injunctions today threatened to halt the work of the Senate Utilities Investigating committee until its powers can be ascertained by the courts.

Oliver K. Eaton, chief counsel for the committee, said the injunction proceedings so effectively tied his hands that all he could do was submit the question to a morning meeting of the committee today for consideration, the committee may decide to defer the investigation until the injunctions have been disposed of, he said.

Question Legality
The court actions question the legality of the committee because it was not listed in the governor's call for the special session, withhold from it the bulk of the utility records sought for examination, and one restrains the committee from expending further amounts of its appropriation.

Commissioner S. Ray Shelby, who had obtained an injunction in the Fayette county court closing his accounts in the Second National Bank of Uniontown to the committee, obtained another temporary order in the Dauphin county court for his accounts in the closed Fayette Title and Trust Company. An officer of the bank, under subpoena by the committee, was already enroute to Harrisburg when the injunction was issued.

More Injunctions
James S. Benn, a former commissioner, Walter L. Morgan, his son-in-law, already questioned by the committee, and Mrs. Morgan and Ira J. Williams, their counsel, obtained three additional injunctions in the Dauphin county court yesterday afternoon. These attacks the constitutionality of the committee and restrain it from expending its appropriation.

The other injunctions protected the records of four subsidiaries of the Associated Gas and Electric system, under investigation by the committee. The actions are returnable Saturday, but an effort to agree upon continuance until a later date will be made.

Four Alarms Are Answered Tuesday

Small Damage Results From Fires Tuesday Afternoon And Evening

Four alarms of fire were answered by local departments Tuesday afternoon and evening, none of which were of serious consequence. At 1:50 Tuesday afternoon, they were called to the home of A. Genaro of 915 South Jefferson street, when a defective chimney allowed smoke to come out into the house. There was no damage.

At 2:30, Seventh ward firemen were called to the home of Fred Lepply of 708 North Cedar street, when children playing with matches set fire to a crib and some toys in the attic of the home. The damage approximated $25.

At 11:20, Tuesday night, firemen were called to the home of Ralph Carvelia of Rigby street, Clifton Plats, where fire starting in the cellar burned a small hole in the floor. The damage was around $25.

At 11:40, Fourth ward firemen

New Castle Naval Flyer To Take Bride In West

Word was received here today of the approaching wedding of a New Castle Naval flyer, Michael J. Wanner, now stationed in San Diego, Cal., who will be married on December 26 to Miss Ernestine Rosso of San Diego.

The word was received by Mrs. Sophia Wanner Brundert of 716 E. Reynolds street, mother of the flyer. Because of the distance it is doubtful if Mrs. Brundert will be able to get to San Diego for the wedding.

Mr. Wanner left New Castle in 1927 after attending Benjamin Franklin Junior high school. He joined the United States Navy, and later was transferred to the flying forces. While serving in Nicaragua with the air forces of the Navy he was wounded and returned to the base at San Diego.

His record as a machine gunner, as a pilot shot and as a pilot are splendid ones and he is rated among the best at the San Diego base. A flying romance is suspected in the case as his bride is a student under his tutelage in flying.

Following the wedding the bride and groom will motor to Arizona where they will visit friends, after which they will live in California.

Don't Coddle a COLD!

Kill it at the First Pop of Its Head!

The moment a cold shows, knock it off! Don't let it linger—and don't attempt to palliate it! Many remedies merely pamper a cold, to the victim's regret. The only way to deal with a cold is to kill it—as quickly as you can!

If treated promptly—when the sneezing or headache begins—a cold can usually be knocked in 12 hours. But you must get at the root of the trouble, a germ infection within the system. This calls, first of all, for a COLD remedy, not a cure-all. A preparation that's good for all kinds of ills and ailments can't be equally effective for a cold. Many popular remedies only make relief more difficult because they are constipating and also make the system acid.

A Cold is An Internal Infection

Take a cold remedy and an INTERNAL one. A cold is an internal infection and, as such, requires internal treatment. Don't be fooled by merely local or external applications. They can't reach the seat of the trouble and they can't stop the spreading of the infection within the system. Your doctor will tell you that.

Your doctor will also tell you that there is nothing better you can take for a cold than Grove's Laxative Bromo Quinine. Most physicians will frankly admit they couldn't write a better prescription for a cold

LONDON, Nov. 30. — Great Britain's reply to the latest debt note transmitted by Secretary of State Stimson has been completed and will be sent to Washington immediately, Neville Chamberlain, chancellor of the Exchequer announced in the House of Commons this afternoon.

Sir Ronald Lindsay, British ambassador to Washington, will hand the note to Secretary Stimson tomorrow.

In the course of his announcement, Chamberlain stated that the text of the note would be made public "in a day or two."

Lieutenant Colonel Douglas Clifton-Brown, conservative, called attention to the report published by the London Daily Herald that Britain was contemplating shipping 30,000,000 pounds sterling in bar gold to New York to meet the December 15 debt payment.

"I have seen the statement," Chamberlain said, "There is no foundation for it whatever."

Every newly arriving member of the senate and house, without regard to party, swells the tide of opposition to debt reduction. While the executive branches of the government are worrying over the diplomatic situation created by the exchange of notes, and the harsh words that are traveling back and forth across the Atlantic, the legislators seem only slightly concerned about it. The issue has been and is, to them, summed up in the phrase: "Let them pay, or let them default."

New Rules For Trucks Will Be In Force Jan. 1

New General Order For All
Common Carriers Will Be Put In Effect

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Nov. 30. — The Public Service Commission today announced the details of a new general order which carries rules and regulations governing common carriers of property by motor vehicles. The order will become effective January 1, 1933, and will affect between 10,000 and 25,000 truck owners.

The plan was adopted after a series of hearings at which representatives of the truckers, the railroad, and the shippers received opportunities to present their views to the commission.

Prior to the adoption of the new regulations for trucks, such rules were part of the commission's general order No. 18 which contained regulations for transportation of both passengers and property. The part of that order applying to common carriers of property has been rescinded. The new general order is No. 29.

The new order provides for four classes of certificates of public convenience. The classifications are: Transportation over definite routes or between fixed termini; transportation between points in the state upon call, and special certificates.

The order also provides for a method for registration by truckers who were engaged in business prior to 1914 when the public service company law became effective. Such truckers are subject to the provisions of the new order but are not required to procure certificates of public convenience.

Under the new order truckers will be required to carry on each truck public liability insurance of not less than $5,000 for injury to one person and $10,000 arising from one accident. Each truck also must be insured in the amount of $10,000 for property damage and cargoes must be protected to the extent of $500.

Says Slippery Rock Valley Is Real Beauty Spot

Pittsburgh Motor Club Pathfinder Praises McConnell's Mills

Norman L. Park, motorogue pathfinder, who during the past summer, covered more than 8,000 miles in Western Pennsylvania for the Pittsburgh Motor Club, mapping out one-day motor tours for Pittsburgh motorists, states that the vicinity of McConnell's Mills, near Portersville, is the most beautiful spot in this section of the country.

The scout car reached the highest point in Pennsylvania, was lost several times in mazes of unmarked rural roads, and blazed a trail over rocky mountain passes which most drivers would fear to try.

After covering practically every main highway and crossroad within 150 miles of Pittsburgh, the road scout says the most beautiful spot of all was in the vicinity of McConnell's Mills. Timber along the Slippery Rock creek in the vicinity of the mill help make this valley a natural paradise for picnickers and swimmers, he stated in his report.

BILL LEGALIZING BEER FACES HOOVER VETO

Report Hoover Ready To Veto Bill For Beer

Veto Of Beer Bill In Short Session Would Force Special Session

NO CHANCE TO BALANCE BUDGET

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Nov. 30.—Reports that President Hoover will veto the pending proposal to legalize beer today raised the prospect of a special session of the new congress right after March 4.

Democratic leaders have hoped the administration would balance the budget through a tax on legalized beer at the short session of the lam duck congress. If this were accomplished, the Democrats could sit back for nine months, reorganize the executive branch of the government and be prepared for the next regular session of congress in December, 1935.

No Budget Balance

If Mr. Hoover should veto a beer bill after its enactment at the short session, there would be little chance of a balanced budget in the first year of the administration of Franklin D. Roosevelt. Indeed, Mr. Roosevelt would be forced virtually to call an extra session of the new congress for the purpose of balancing the budget.

President Hoover's opposition to the legalization of beer was widely rumored on Capitol Hill. Although Republican leaders declined to authorize its publication, a half dozen senators, regarded as close to Mr. Hoover, admitted it privately.

No Aid Here For Hunger Marchers

Mayor Says City Will Not Aid And Is Prepared For Any Emergency

"The city of New Castle is planning to do nothing for the hunger marchers who are now enroute toward this city and are scheduled to arrive here sometime Thursday morning," said Mayor Charles E. Mayne today.

"I was approached a number of days ago by a committee representing these marchers, who are sponsored by the so-called unemployed councils," continued the mayor, "and asked what we, the city, proposed to do for them."

"My answer then still remains good," said the mayor, "and was as follows: 'The city will do nothing for the hunger marchers. The highways are open and the city is not looking after this group from the west.'"

"Most groups that go from town to town preaching politics pay their own expenses. This bunch is trying to rich the expense of spreading their propaganda from the public. 'All I would say further,' said the mayor, "is that we are prepared for any emergency that may arise from the visit of the hunger marchers through our city."

Warner Thinks Over Matter Of Stepping Down

"Pop" Warner May Be Found At Helm Again Next Year By Stan-Stanford

OTHER COACHES ARE SATISFIED

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Writer

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—They tell me that Mr. Glenn S. Warner, who seems to be taking a lot of random abuse because the teams that used to win in their own name are now losing in his, has changed his mind about stepping down under fire at Stanford. They also tell me that he has a one-way arrangement, whereby he can't be dismissed unless he wants to be. This is all very lady-like and genteel. After thinking it over, it seems that Mr. Warner has decided that he doesn't want to be dismissed.

They tell me further that Villanova and Mr. Harry Stuhldreher, one of the almost legendary four horse-men, are bickering over finances. By this time, the four horsemen are more favorably known than the original of the idea, a Mr. Reverse, who after all was only a one-horse man and probably had a tough time with the feed bills. Besides, they did it the hard way. They even rode to fame without the horse. Mr. Stuhldreher naturally feels that, in plastering him with one cut of $1,500, Villanova is asking too much and I might add, offering too little.

Stuhldreher May Leave
Anyhow, they say Mr. Stuhldreher who always has turned out good football teams and some that have been national contenders, is liable to wind up with Fordham. They also say that Fordham is liable to wind up with Mr. "Hiker" Joy. There's one thing to be said for that, Fordham already has Mr. "Hiker" Joy.

There is also the pathetic case of Mr. A. A. Stag, who is soullessly being forced to take to his own fireside at about $5,000 a year by the University of Chicago. He has spurned this cunning suggestion very coldly, saying that he intends to coach elsewhere next season. Perhaps this will be so but most of Mr. Stag's background is in the big ten where men like Kipke, Hanley, Zupke, Williamson, Spears, Blernie and Kizer seem to be doing as well as can be expected.

Coaches May Stick
Moreover, the South and Southwest—Mr. Stag wouldn't be interested—may afford comparatively lean pickings this time. Florida had a bad year. So did Southern Methodist. But what's one bad year among ten good ones? They say Bill Alexander did quite a job at Georgia Tech. All things considered, and that, regardless of the U. C. L. result this Saturday, the same thing goes for Jimmy Phelan, at Washington. Bill Ingram at California seems safe enough and ought to be. So are Bill Spaulding, Tom Lieb, Slip Madison, Clipper Smith, Hollingsberry and Paul Schisler.

So things being as they are, I think I can understand the underlying causes of Mr. Warner's reluctance. Having thought the matter over, he just doesn't want to be dismissed.

KINCSEN UPSETS DOPE, BEATS MATE

Kincsen upset the pre-race dope yesterday to win from 11 other thoroughbreds at Bowie. She won the Bryan and O'Hara Memorial handicap. She beat Mate by a nose. She paid $32.50 for $2.00 and brought her owner, Mrs. F. A. Carreau, $14,200, the richest Bowie race season purse.

Hoyt-Mitchell Are Dropped By New York Giants

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—The New York Giants may not win the national league pennant next year but at least they will put a young, fast team on the field.

That was made plain today as Secretary Jim Tierney and Manager Bill Terry planned further changes to rebuild the club, following the unconditional release yesterday of two veteran pitchers, Waite Hoyt and Clarence Mitchell. "Old Nasty" as Mitchell was known to the trade because of his moist delivery, was the only southpaw spitball artist in the majors. He was used as a coach for the last half of the 1932 season.

Terry and Tierney have several big deals under negotiations. They will bait their hooks at the minor league convention in Columbus, O., next week and try to close the deals at the major league meetings here on Dec. 13, 14 and 15.

Columbus Seeks Playing Manager For 1933 Season

(International News Service)

The announcement was believed to spell the end of the management of Billy Southworth with the Birds.

MacPhail said no decision has been reached as to who will manage the team next season. Pat Crawford, regular first baseman, is prominently mentioned.

TITANS START COURT PRACTICE; LAWYER HAS ONLY GREEN MATERIAL

Loss Of Three Stars From Last Year Is Felt Keenly

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Nov. 30.—Westminster college basketball candidates are busy drilling for the strenuous 19-game schedule which starts late in December and lasts until early March.

Coach John D. Lawther, starting his seventh year as mentor of the Titans, is faced with the problem of replacing three stars—Mike Koceran, forward; Bud Brownlee, center; and Phil Rice, guard.

The squad at present is far from impressive. There are no men available who are as good as the three men lost from last year's great team. What the green material will develop into is yet a question. At all events, Westminster cannot expect to have as good a team as that of the last three seasons.

When Lawther came to Westminster as head coach in 1926, he had to start building for the future. If the candidates available now develop into stars, as yet a question. At all events, Westminster cannot expect to have as good a team as that of the last three seasons.

Of the men who have seen much varsity service, Gerald Newton, New Wilmington, forward; Mauno Siljanen, Pittsburgh, guard; William Douglass, Iselin, forward; Ray Sweetney, Youngstown, O., forward; and John Wilhelm, Kittanning, guard, look best. There are a number of freshmen competing for positions, not out for the team last year have been induced to report. From this group Lawther must build the 1933 team.

While the Titans are faced with the loss of the three star players of last year's great team, Grove City has its entire team of last year available. Geneva lost Ransom and Montgomery, but has a strong squad, headed by Grahame and Aultman. Waynesburg will again have the same great team as last year, and is figured to be a new threat in the conference. Allegheny, Bethany and Thiel have all lost many good players, but Bethany figures to be stronger than last season.

Lawther's big problem seems to be replacing Brownlee at center and Rice at guard. These two key positions have as yet no outstanding claimants. Unless these positions can be filled capably, the Titans cannot hope for more than a fair season.

Head Coach Bridenbaugh Issues Call For Floor Men To Meet Thursday

New Castle High School Section Three basketball team will commence active practice at Senior High floor Thursday afternoon, it was announced today by Head Coach Philip H. Bridenbaugh. A squad of perhaps 35 will greet Bridenbaugh tomorrow afternoon.

There are only three veterans left from last year's varsity team, Captain Reiber, Johnny Uram and Teplica. There are several fine looking reserves ready to fight the regulars a tough battle.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Willie Davies and Ross Fields will meet again. This time they will do their stuff at Youngstown. Their previous settees have been hard fights. They'll clash Thursday night. Ross is on the upward wave while Willie has seen his best day.

In a New York story Jack Dempsey in discussing boxing says "our officials are not the best available." He charged some of them don't know boxing and many of them got their appointments as political favors.

Connie Mack is not having any trouble signing his 1933 players. Nine of them have affixed their signatures to dotted lines. Those who have signed are: Cain, Cramer, Finney, Bishop, Higgins, Johnson, McNair, Miller and Williams.

Although the season is only in its infancy the teams in the Y. M. C. A. church basketball league are playing some good games. For instance the Epworth M. E. emerged over Tifereth Israel with only a three point edge last night. It was Shaf. Finney, center for Epworth who put the Methodists over. He scored 10 points.

And once again "Don't forget to cover the upper portion of your body with a red cloth if you are going into the woods after deer Thanksgiving day." Throughout today squads will be departing every hour or more. Those who are making their first trip should be exceedingly careful. Be sure you're right then shoot.

Don Miller, one of the immortal "Four Horsemen" of Notre Dame and a brother to Mayor Ray T. Miller of Cleveland has mailed his resignation as backfield coach at Ohio State University to Athletic Director L. W. St. John, according to Cleveland reports where Miller is a practicing attorney. He assigns no reason for the resignation. He is mentioned as a probable successor to Ralph Vince at John Carroll.

Nilly Southworth, who took over the managerial duties of the Columbus Red Birds in midseason last year and finished in second place in the American Association, will not be the 1933 pilot, Columbus reports state. It is said the team will have a playing manager, the result of the establishment of a $5,500 a month salary limit in the association.

Talking about long runs, here were a few that occurred this season: Runback of kickoff, Wesleyan vs. Oklahoma City. Robert Gilbey, 107 yards; Runback of a punt, Thiel vs. Bethany, Mike Schenck, 109 yards; Run from scrimmage, Florida vs. Sevanee, Herb McNally, 105 yards; Run with intercepted pass, North Carolina State vs. Clemson, Ray Rex, 101 yards.

Clarence Mitchell, southpaw spitball hurler and Waite Hoyt, the "boy wonder" of 15 years ago, have been cast adrift by the Giants.

Michigan May Get Coast Bid

Big Ten Committee Will Decide Saturday If Michigan Can Accept Offer

(International News Service)
LOS ANGELES, Nov. 30.—With Southern California formally selected as the western representative for the Tournament of Roses New Year's game, the task of naming the eastern opponent marked time today.

The undefeated Trojans personally will extend the bid to a fitting rival, but it was learned that no action will be taken until after the "Big Ten" meets in Chicago Saturday.

At that time it will be determined whether Michigan, proud champion of its conference, will be permitted to play January 2 in the Pasadena stadium.

Michigan, first choice because of its unblemished record against stern opposition, will be promptly tendered an invitation if the path is clear, according to well informed sources.

Virtually bracketed in second place close behind the Big Ten champion were Colgate and Pittsburgh.

Three Of Brown Stars Picked For All-North Team

Dempsey Says He Was 'Doped'

Former Heavyweight Champion Places Blame On Gamblers

OFFICIALS POOR; BLAMES POLITICS

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—More than six years after the incident was thought to have been decently buried, Jack Dempsey disinterred the skeleton of a dead past today and rattled its bones for all to hear.

For the first time and in short, bitter words, he confirmed the story that he had been doped by gamblers in Atlantic City before the first Tunney meeting and even added a few details, by way of emphasis and good measure. The story first gained circulation a few weeks after the Philadelphia fight but Dempsey himself didn't sponsor it and it wasn't taken seriously.

"It was serious enough for me," was his comment today. "I didn't recover from the poison for six months."

He was a shining target for gamblers, according to his version of the thing. They couldn't make money if he won at the current odds of 3 to 1, so it was up to them to make him lose.

"Maybe I was due to lose anyhow," he went on. "I'm not trying to re-open the old question of whether Tunney, at his best, was better than I was, at mine. In fact, all I want to say is this: Maybe Tunney was at his best that night; I certainly wasn't. You wouldn't think so, anyhow, if you saw me trying to shake off the after-effects for months before I could start to come back and make another try for the title."

Dempsey was asked if he knew how and when the alleged poison was administered and who was responsible. But he did know, his lips were sealed, for all he did was shake his head doubtfully and intimate that it was still a profound mystery to him.

"There are certain types that will do anything for money," was his last word on that subject.

His next was a plea for better and sounder officiating in boxing, although denying that this was inspired by the Dave Barry incident in Chicago and the decision in the last Sharkey-Schmeling fight.

"I didn't see the last Sharkey-Schmeling fight, so I have no opinion on the verdict," he added. "But those sort of things stir up controversies and, while controversies stir up interest, it's the wrong kind. It's destructive, not constructive, interest. You can't tell me that, in hurting the confidence of the public, you're not hurting the game."

"Neither can you tell me that our officials are the best available. Some of them don't even know boxing. Many of them got their appointments as political favors. You might as well appoint a baseball umpire because his brother-in-law is a Holy Roller."

A country isn't licked so long as a pickel's worth of wool and a dime-store ornament make a $9.75 hat.

STOCKS

Pound Sterling Develops Rally

Has Little Influence On Market This Morning However

STOCKS DECLINE IN EARLY TRADING

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—Weakness in individual issues today overshadowed sterling as an influence on the stock market.

A rally in the pound, which was up five cents at one time, after two days of successive record lows, brought temporary strength into stocks at the opening.

U. S. Steel Preferred and American Tobacco B, however, failed to follow the rest of the market and dropped abruptly under heavy pressure. This brought general selling into the general market and the whole list declined sharply, losses running from one to three points.

News from industry was bearish. Power production for the week was down further from last week and the same period a year ago. The mid-week steel review reported a slight gain in operations but held out little hope of nearby improvement.

On the other hand, New York Central made the best traffic showing of the year, which provided support to the railroad shares.

Activity picked up on the decline in contrast to the extreme dullness of the last two days. Pressure lifted in the second hour and the market steadied around the lows of the day, but showed no rallying power.

Bonds were irregular, with foreign and treasury obligations higher and railroad issues weakening. Wheat was steady. Cotton eased after an early run-up of 50 cents a bale.

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 30.—The many mysterious robbery cases in Ellwood City and vicinity in the past several months are mysterious no more. Events came to a climax late last night when Lieutenant R. Hartman and Officer K. M. Musser of the Ellwood City police arrested four young men, were arrested near Knox, thus necessitating the presence of the state policemen. A fifth person is expected to be arrested today.

Remarkable work was done by Lieutenant Hartman and Officer Musser, who have been following down clues and investigating for some time. They found the missing fact that was required last evening. The arrests followed.

New Castle Youth Is Held At Erie

(International News Service)
ERIE, Pa., Nov. 30.—Three youths were held in jail pending arraignment on disorderly conduct charges this afternoon as the result of a slight mistake.

Their mistake was that they elected to battle with a former wrestler and a former boxer—both members of the Erie police force—who sought to arrest them for breaking up furniture in a home here.

The men are Merle Schaffer, 24, New Castle; James Powers, 22, Duquesne, Pa., and Henry Thomas of Erie.

The arresting officers are Charles Pancerev, former wrestler, and Paul Schaff, former boxer.
